

INTERNATIONAL LIVESTOCK SHOW 1900 – 2011

During the years 1900, 1901 and 1902 no Grand Championships were awarded. There were no shows during the years 1914 and 1915 due hoof and mouth outbreak, and 1942 through 1945 due to World War II. The International Livestock Show originated in Chicago, Illinois in 1900 and ran through 1975. The Stockyards were closed in 1971, which led to the International Livestock Show in Chicago being terminated at the close of the Show in 1975. In 1974, the North American International Livestock Show in Louisville, Kentucky was inaugurated, thus in 1974 and 1975 there were two Shows, one in Chicago, and one in Louisville, Kentucky. In 1976, there was once again one International at the Kentucky Fair and Exposition grounds in Louisville, Kentucky, and continues to this day.

The Following ten pictures were taken at the International Livestock Show in Chicago Stockyards during its tenure in Chicago, Illinois.
